

CLINICAL ORTHOPAEDIC SURGERY

Vol. 59 No. 10 October 2024

Chief Editor Morio MATSUMOTO
Editorial Board Hirotaka KAWANO, Ryosuke KURODA, Hisateru NIKI
Yukihiro MATSUYAMA, Akinori SAKAI, Takuaki YAMAMOTO

CONTENTS

FEATURE How to Conduct Clinical Research for Orthopaedic Surgeons from Planning to Implementation

Preface	Miho SEKIGUCHI • 1173
Human Subjects Research Overview	Takaomi KOBAYASHI, et al • 1175
Ethical Principles and Considerations for Clinical Research	Yasuchika AOKI • 1181
Terms and Interpretations on Personal Information Protection	Takanori FUJITA • 1185
Organizing and Structuring Clinical Questions from Clinical Practice	Rei ONO • 1191
Designing Clinical Research	Misa TAKEGAMI • 1197
Important Points About Surveys : With a Focus on Questionnaire Surveys	Koji OTANI • 1203
Data Analysis in Clinical Research	Ryoji TOMINAGA • 1209
Effect Measures in Clinical Research : Strategies for Communicating and Interpreting the Clinical Significance of Effect Size	Noriaki KURITA • 1217
Ethical Procedure of Clinical Research	Takenori ODA • 1225

LECTURE

Genomic Medicine in Musculoskeletal Oncology	Hiroshi KOBAYASHI • 1235
--	--------------------------

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

Characteristics of Interrupted Patients After Fracture Liaison Service (FLS) Intervention and Related Factors	Masashi YAMASHITA, et al • 1247
--	---------------------------------

CASE REPORT

Four Cases of Distal Radius Fracture Requiring Neurolysis of the Median Nerve After Hardware Removal	Soichiro HONDA, et al • 1253
---	------------------------------